

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Ben Hershey
Phone: 623.512.6770
Email: info@4WardConsult.com

January 24, 2019

4Ward Consulting Group, LLC welcomes Roger Wagner

Consultant expert within management of multiple operations including general management, operations and design management

The team at 4Ward Consulting Group of Arlington, WA is pleased to announce the addition of Roger Wagner to our consulting team. Roger has an extensive industry background including management of multiple operations including general management, operations and design management. Roger's experience also includes work as a component designer and sales representative to both component and lumber operations.

"Roger brings an extensive background to our team providing our industry customers with actual experience that will allow them to increase the productivity and profitability of their companies", says 4Ward Consulting President, Ben Hershey. "I have not only seen Roger make tremendous impacts with the companies he has worked for, I saw firsthand the change focused experience he brings and is needed in our industry." Roger also worked for the companies Ben managed and owned in the past.

Roger will provide both lean management/manufacturing, design management and operational consulting for customers. One of the benefits Roger specifically brings is the ability to transform design teams to address the growing need to be more innovative in the products offered to the market to supply the entire structural envelop. His ability to train and structure the design team has been beneficial to several companies in the past and will allow 4Ward Consulting to provide the same to their customers.

"I am extremely excited about this wonderful opportunity" says Roger. "Being able to help give back to an Industry that is a passion of mine, an industry that has given me years of experience and has taught me many valuable lessons, is both humbling and rewarding at the same time."

Welcome to the team Roger and we look forward to working with you alongside our customers!

About 4Ward Consulting Group, LLC

4Ward Consulting Group provides consulting to the LBM, Structural Components, Millwork, Modular/Manufactured Home, SIP and Lumber Mill companies among several other building industry-based operations. 4Ward provides, management including interim-management, lean consulting, manufacturing, design, restructuring, operational, financial and many other consulting-based services to new and existing companies. You can reach 4Ward Consulting Group at info@4WardConsult.com and through our website www.4WardConsult.com.

####